

SR 57/60 Confluence Chokepoint Relief Project

Update: Diamond Bar Golf Course Renovation – Fall 2022

As part of the planned freeway improvements to the SR-57/SR-60 Confluence Project, the Diamond Bar Golf Course was temporarily closed on September 1, 2021. Over the past year, renovations have been underway on the course and its support facilities, improving overall operations and golfing experience. The course is scheduled to reopen in 2023.

If you have been recently traveling along the SR-57/SR-60, you can't miss the new Diamond Bar Golf Course boundary poles. They are tall, reaching as high as 170 feet into the air! Modern golf clubs help golfers hit the ball farther and higher. To better protect vehicles traveling on the SR-57/SR-60, the old fence line was removed, and taller boundary poles were installed as an overall enhancement to the course. It took an estimated half-million square feet of netting to cover the length of the course.

The demolition of existing cart paths, the old maintenance building and drainage culverts, left a huge pile of concrete to haul away, but the project had different plans. They brought in a rock crusher and recycled the concrete to be used again for the base of new cart paths, access roads and construction of the new maintenance facility. 7500 cubic yards of recycled material will be utilized on site. This process reduces the number of trucks entering and exiting the project on to local streets and limits having to haul old concrete to landfills.

The new maintenance facility is taking shape and grading crews are roughing out new fairways, bunkers, and greens for those holes that were relocated to make room for the SR-57/SR-60 Confluence Project improvements. All work continues to progress, and the course is on target to reopen in 2023.
